NF BRANDING COMPANY PROFILE

NF Branding, previously National Flag, was established in 1982 and started off as a flag making company in Johannesburg. Since then the company has grown immensely, continuously evolving and expanding to become a leading below and above-the-line branding supplier.

NF Branding sees itself at the pinnacle of the printing and branding industry and this ambition led to a decision to invest heavily in new print technologies in order to grow and enhance our printing capabilities and product range.

Printing technologies such as flat bed printing, dye sublimation and direct digital printing have provided us with endless printing capabilities and a wide range of products. Our products include a full range of flags, banners, point of sale products, signage and display systems. Today, we boast the largest product range in the African branding industry.

In 2011 we expanded our horizons by launching a new division, NF Media, which owns exclusive media sites throughout South Africa. In 2012 we continued to expand by introducing NF Retail Displays, a division dedicated to providing retail branding and signage solutions. 2013 sees the launch of NF Support. NF Support supplies branding hardware products, both to companies and the general public. All products are locally manufactured here in our factory for your convenience.

NF Branding is continuously expanding, looking to grow and move into new markets. In 2010 NF Branding successfully secured the contract for the FIFA World Cup and in 2012 NF Branding delivered 22 tons of manufactured goods in seven days to the DRC. This level of dedication affirms our continued commitment to our motto: Best Quality, Best Service and Best Value. In 2013 NF Branding was named as the approved supplier of African Cup Of Nations.

From a 6000m2 factory in Johannesburg, we are sweeping the continent, and leading a new generation of branding innovations. With our new strategy we offer our clients a complete solution of all branding requirements from above to below-the-line products and design.
